The objectives of this paper are to describe a family medicine perspective of the family physician role and explore the implications for research. For this purpose, an assessment tool was developed and examined in a survey of 44 family physicians and their patients from a rural Midwestern university medical center. The model proposed provides a perspective of the contribution that a family physician makes to primary care and the physician-patient relationship. Factor analysis revealed two domains: (1) the physician function and (2) the patient function. These domains characterized the impact of a family physician on patient care.Q: How to loop through a list of strings and add items to a new ListBox (Win

The area around this temple is very crowded and as a result, it is very crowded. There are many devotees who walk around the temple in order to take blessings and get purified. The entire temple is considered to be lord Vishnu and is a very sacred place to purify the lives of devotees. It is said that Sri Lalitha sahasranamam leads us to the path of enlightenment. There are many thoughts in this temple about how life should be lived and how we should live. Here are some mantras that people often recite in front of this temple. Among the many mantras chanted here, there are three main mantras that people chant: there is a one-and-a-half-year-old girl who is a devotee of this temple and has received special blessings from Sri. She recites the following mantras, three times each day.
